INTERESTS

I am passionate about reading manga, comics, novels, and engaging with creative literature. I actively write poetry and am working on a book, developing my storytelling and expressive skills. I enjoy physical activities, including gym workouts and participating in various sports, which help maintain my discipline and focus. Additionally, I am driven by a passion for learning and problem-solving, as such I am currently pursuing Interactive Media Major with a Minor in Computer Science at NYU Abu Dhabi. I am also involved in philosophical and logical analysis and have experience with debating global issues, enhancing my critical thinking and communication abilities.
